

ISA Education Foundation

New Appraiser Scholarship

The ISA Education Foundation (“Foundation”) was formed to advance education related to personal property appraising and to assist individuals through education development and improve their capabilities in personal property appraising. For many individuals, the cost of courses, seminars, and other educational programs (collectively, “course”) is a significant obstacle in obtaining education related to personal property appraising. In furtherance of its mission, the Foundation has developed the ISA Education Foundation New Appraiser Scholarship. The purpose of this scholarship is designed to help individuals with less than two years of experience in personal property appraising with demonstrated financial need, pursue education related to personal property appraising.

The Foundation intends to award $500 - $1000 educational scholarships to individuals engaged in or interested in learning about personal property appraising. Awards will be based on financial need and a candidate’s explanation of how the scholarship and the educational course for which the scholarship is sought will help develop or improve his or her personal property appraising capabilities. The scholarships may only be used for educational courses. If you are qualified and interested in applying for a scholarship please complete and submit a copy of the attached application to the ISA Education Foundation at the given letterhead address.

Minimum Eligibility Criteria

- Demonstrated financial need
- Engaged in personal property appraising less than 2 years.
- Demonstrated interest in personal property
- Scholarships may only be sought for educational courses related to personal property appraising
- Directors, officers, and employees of the International Society of Appraisers and the ISA Education Foundation, members of the ISA Education Foundation Scholarship Selection Committee and their relatives are not eligible to apply for ISA Education Foundation Scholarships.